

To find graphics and visual data on tea and coffee market trends in France, you have a few reliable options:

1. Statista

- Statista provides detailed graphs, charts, and statistics on various industries, including beverage trends in France. You can search specifically for tea and coffee market trends, growth projections, and consumer behavior.
- Visit Statista and search for France tea and coffee market trends or France hot drinks market.

2. Euromonitor International

- Euromonitor is a top resource for industry reports and market analysis. Their reports often include visualizations like bar charts, line graphs, and infographics illustrating market growth, consumer trends, and competitive landscapes.
- Access Euromonitor and search for their reports on the French coffee and tea markets.

3. Research and Markets

- This site offers comprehensive market reports that often include charts and graphs illustrating market growth, segmentation, and consumer preferences. They have specific reports on the French market and the wider European tea and coffee industries.
- Check Research and Markets and look up French coffee and tea market trends.

4. Mintel

- Mintel is known for its consumer and market research, with many visual aids like graphs and infographics embedded in their reports. You can find insights on coffee and tea trends, especially focusing on consumer behavior and product innovation.
- Visit Mintel and search for French beverage trends reports.